"We were fortunate to be able to use LSS to benchmark our overall transportation costs as compared to other similar sized users. As a result we were able to reduce our annual costs considerably and improve our transportation processes at the same time. It was a service that we would highly endorse."

It all starts with accurate and informative benchmarking

For over 15 years we have provided considerable value to our clients by communicating current and comparative transportation rate structures based on volume, product type, modes and shipper/receiver requirements.

The rates you negotiate (without the wealth of our industry knowledge) may be too high. Without knowing what your competition is paying and what carriers are willing to settle for, you may not have the tools you need to get the best rates and service available...especially in these market conditions.

Change for the sake of change? Never! We respect the trust and relationships you have built with your carriers, but at LSS we can determine:

- How rates compare with what your competition is paying
- The bottom line that carriers will accept for the privilege of being your carrier
- Current capacity requirements with key carriers and how to leverage this knowledge into better rates for you
- Carrier costs and how to use that knowledge to your advantage
- Proper negotiation, completion and implementation of carrier contracts that cover all the bases
